Biography

Isle Royale is comprised of:

Scott McGehee: Scott was introduced to electronic music by group member Chris Purdy, which immediately sparked a strong interest in the genre. His favorite sub-genres within the scene are deep house and melodic trance, citing the labels Anjunadeep and Silk Music as the true curators of such sounds. Scott also DJs under the solo project Paper Fox where he recently released his 100th podcast. During the normal business hours of the day, Scott is a professionally licensed engineer working for the residential design firm that designs custom homes throughout the Carolina region.

Chris Purdy: Chris drew inspiration at an early age from the electronic performance that accompanied the 2004 Summer Olympics. From that point on he began releasing seasonal mixtapes under the moniker TwinCam (now CR/SP), with the iconic series 4 Doors to Daybreak. Chris draws inspiration from Daley Padley's (stage name Hot Since 82) coveted label Knee Deep in Sound, while also agreeing to the stature of Anjuna releases. When Chris is not behind the one's and two's, he is busy working at the executive level for the non-profit group PSI, headquartered in Washington, DC.

Isle Royale was formed in 2014 after years of Scott and Chris practicing and performing together. Although both are currently living in two separate cities, meetups are scheduled throughout the year to catch up and to share their love of threading songs together while djjing.
